

World Class Esthetician to Help Battle Against Breast Cancer
with Anti Aging Demonstration at Day of Renewal in Thousand Oaks

For immediate release June 2, 2011

The battle against breast cancer takes center stage in Thousand Oaks, June 4, 2011 at the annual Day of Renewal supporting the Breast Cancer Fund.

Providing support, education and increasing awareness to the devastating disease, the event will showcase educational and health conscious demonstrations and services for women of all ages.

Once again, world class esthetician, Kathryn Bruno of The Hidden Gem in Thousand Oaks will demonstrate the latest and most advanced clinical skincare and facial treatments that clients in Westlake Village, Thousand Oaks and Beverly Hills acclaim as the best in skin care.

The battle against breast cancer is important because as Kathryn said" My mother-in-law and other wonderful women I have known have been impacted by this terrible disease and I am devoted to helping find a cure for women everywhere."

Attendees at The Day of Renewal will have the opportunity to experience firsthand what clients of The Hidden Gem have long enjoyed.

Clients marvel at the results achieved at The Hidden Gem, Thousand Oaks. "My skin has a new texture and a new shine," said Jeanie from Thousand Oaks, "It was terribly damaged from the sun."

Kathryn Bruno has more than 30 years experience working with plastic surgeons, dermatologists and health spa therapists. Treatments include include anti-aging and acne treatments, micro dermabrasion, oxygen treatment, traditional peels, and micro phototherapy to name a few.

Clients love the service and results, as Jeanie, said, "The wonderful thing about Kathryn Bruno at The Hidden Gem is that you feel like you're her only client."

The Hidden Gem offers a wide range of skin care treatments from their menu. The premier service is "The Works" which includes clinical microdermabrasion, peels for your specific skin, oxygen therapy, microcurrent and a customized facial mask. This is a 2 hour intensive and private treatment that will pamper you, making you feel and look years younger.

Other services include the advanced anti-aging treatment of a European facial plus advanced exfoliation, and an intensive hydrating healing mask for fresher skin.

Joanne of Westlake Village regularly schedules intensive skin care treatments offered only at The Hidden Gem, because, as she says, they work, commenting, "I'm 73 years young, and I continue to come here because I have the appearance of a 53-year-old women." Joanne noted that she doesn't wear makeup and enjoys her natural beauty enhanced by Kathryn Bruno's clinical skincare treatments in Thousand Oaks.

Finally, damaged skin and sunspots can be healed using a gentle and effective balance of light and heat energy that gently smoothes your skin tone called micro phototherapy. And of course no service would be complete without waxing for optimal shine and soothing sensation.

The Hidden Gem regularly attracts new and repeat clients throughout the Conejo Valley, Thousand Oaks, Westlake Village to Beverly Hills due to exceptional clinical skincare services. It's just one reason why clients like Roswitha of Westlake Village have been coming back for years who said, "She gives the best facials I ever had in my life."
